Background:

Washington's Uniform Anatomical Gift Act allows a person over 18 years old, or over 16 years old if also agreed upon in writing by his or her parent or guardian, to agree to donate all or part of his or her body to another person. An organ donor may indicate his or her intent to donate by signing a "document of gift." This document may be a driver's license, a donor card, a will, or other written statement of the donor's intentions.

In 2003, the Legislature created an organ and tissue donor registry to facilitate organ and tissue donation. The Legislature also created the Organ and Tissue Donation Awareness Account (Account). Funds for the Account come from donations by applicants for vehicle registration and other sources and are used for organ and tissue donation awareness programs. Periodically, the funds in the Account are transferred to the foundation for donation awareness which was established by the two Washington organ procurement organizations.

Between 1988 and 2005, over 6,900 organ transplants were performed in Washington, with 235 organ donations in 2005. Approximately 1,200 people in Washington need an organ donation. National statistics indicate that approximately half of the people listed for an organ transplant will not receive one due to the shortage of donated organs. On average, 17 people across the nation die each day waiting for life-saving organ transplants.

Summary of Engrossed Substitute Bill:

Requires that driver training courses taught by public schools or state licensed private driving schools include instruction regarding organ donation awareness, including instruction regarding the organ and tissue donor registry. Notice must be given to parents and guardians at least 14 days prior to organ donation awareness instruction. A parent or guardian may request in writing that his or her child be excused from the instruction.

The costs of developing, distributing, and implementing the instruction regarding organ donation is paid by the foundation established by the Washington organ procurement organizations.

Appropriation: None.

Fiscal Note: Available.

Effective Date: The bill takes effect 90 days after adjournment of session in which bill is passed.

Testimony For: When students learn about organ donation, they tend to sign up to be organ donors. Having instruction regarding organ donation is the next logical step after the creation of the organ donor registry. Education makes it easier for people to make choices about organ donations and makes them aware of the good that they can do for others. Sixteen states have laws that require organ donation instruction. There should be a nexus between the organ donation awareness program and drivers education.

Testimony Against: None.

Persons Testifying: (In support) Don Rash, Association of Washington School Principals; and Vicki Austin, Arlene Mitterholzer, and Jill Steinhaus, Life Center Northwest.

Persons Signed In To Testify But Not Testifying: None.
